INTERNSHIPS AT THE CRG: LEARNING BY DOING

Apply by 27th April 2017

Young researchers have access to training on transferrable skills but often lack opportunities to apply learned skills, which would effectively boost their career options, outside their experimental work.

To overcome this gap the CRG offers short internships in different CRG departments:

- Grants
- Communication,
- Human Resources
- International Scientific Affairs (ISA)

Who can apply?

PhD students, postdocs and technicians at the CRG.

The projects will be developed under the supervision of the department members and carried out within a flexible framework allowing the intern to continue their current principal job and research.
